Tax Rate Up 50¢; Bills In Mail Next Week

Andover fiscal 1983 tax bills may be in the mail by the end of the week, bringing season's greetings to taxpayers early next week: a 50-cent increase in the tax rate.

Assessor William Russell said Tuesday that the Massachusetts Department of Revenue has approved a $20 tax rate for the town, increased from last year's $19.50 rate. Russell called the increase "very reasonable."

Tax collector Myron Muise said his office at Town Hall will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. every day next week — including Friday, New Year's Eve, when all other Town Hall offices will be closed for the holiday.

Taxpayers will have 30 days from the date bills are mailed to either pay their taxes or file an application for an abatement, Russell indicated.

The assessor noted that some property-owners may notice a "slight difference" of $100 to $200 in their valuations. That happened when the town converted valuation data from PRC Jacobs, the firm that completed 100 percent revaluation for the town, to the town's computer system, Russell explained. In most cases, valuations are staying "just about the same," he said.

Assessments throughout the town will be updated in time for fiscal '84 bills, Russell said, as required by state law.

Finishes Course

Pvt. Gary A. Laurendeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Laurendeau, 13 Belmont St., North Andover, completed an Army food service specialist course at Fort Jackson, S.C.

The course trained personnel to prepare and serve food in large and small quantities. Students received training in baking, field kitchen operations and the operation of an Army dining facility.

He is a 1982 graduate of North Andover High School.

River Road Traffic Study Aimed At Avoiding Problems

By Sue Aucella Deacon

As the industrial zone on River Road continues to attract new industries, the town manager wants to make sure the area will not become another Lowell Junction, where narrow streets are too often choked by industrial traffic.

"It's a difficult situation," Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told the TOWNSMAN this week. "We have to improve River Road, or you'll find a Ballardvale Street situation again. And the time to do it is now, in the next one or two years."

River Road is a narrow street that winds through Lawrence and across the town line into Andover, following the course of the Merrimack River and leading into Tewksbury. Industrial development has evolved on the river side of the roadway, which is intersected by Interstate Route 93. Some homes remain in the area.

Industrial land-owners on River Road include the John M. Corcoran Co., Arkwright-Boston Insurance, Prudential Insurance, Wang, the Worthen estate, GCA, the Tambone Corp. of Stoneham, and Digital. Hewlett-Packard, Intertel and Software International are already located in the area.

Some undeveloped residential land remains on River Road as well, Mahony said.

Mahony became concerned about potential traffic problems on River Road when the Corcoran Co. proposed a 96-acre development on the Andover-Lawrence border about two months ago. Some 66 acres, four buildings and most of two more buildings will be located in Andover; the rest of the acreage and two more buildings will be in Lawrence.

Andover officials favor the development, but Mahony said it "looked to me like we were building ourselves into another situation like Lowell Junction" — an industrial

Seifert Being Considered For State Administrator In Alaska

By John P. Sawyer

After 13 years of service as superintendent of schools, Dr. Kenneth Seifert is reassessing the educational environment in Andover, considering how and where he would like to continue to contribute to education, and looking at other challenges — a job as commissioner of education, state of Alaska.

Seifert, 47, is one of seven semi-finalists for the position, which he said could be filled by late spring. A job screening committee may visit each of the semi-finalists, and then finalists for the position would be interviewed in Alaska sometime after the new year, according to the superintendent.

Reached for comment in Washington, D.C., Phyllis Blaustein, consultant to the Alaska state Board of Education and chairman of the job screening committee, said the selection process was on hold.

As to whether Seifert would accept the job, he said, "...My bags are not packed, but I'm really wondering."

Why the superintendent is considering the new position is a matter of looking to the future — the future of youth and education, and where he fits in as an educator.

It also has something to do with what's going on educationally in Andover — a system Seifert noted has great respect state and nationwide.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert

THE PROBLEM IN ANDOVER:

The superintendent questions whether education is a top priority in this town and whether Andover is willing to face the future and make the necessary commitment.

He said things are different than when he first came to Andover in 1969. Certainly, part of the dilemma is school funding.

A three-year budget projection is not an optimistic sign for school finances, according to Seifert. He said there is a "high degree of pain" to look down the road three years and see the school system "regressing," not even maintaining its current level of service. Letting personnel go has also been "painful" for the superintendent.

Seifert explained that the Proposition 2½ override vote, which would have exempted debt on the school building program but failed to pass, raises the question, "What priority is education in Andover?" He said that question has not been answered yet, but a trend has been set.

Meanwhile, people's jobs are being af-

Hearing Screening Wednesday

The Elderly Health Program of Greater Lawrence Home Health and Nursing Services, Inc., will offer a special hearing screening clinic in Andover next Wednesday for senior citizens who think they may have a hearing loss.

The service will offer an audiogram to each senior from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Andover. The clinic is limited to 15 clients.

To schedule an appointment, contact the Andover Council on Aging in the Essex Street Theatre Building.

A small donation will be accepted for each screening.

Municipal Building To Be Closed

In observance of the Christmas holiday, Andover Town Hall (along with all other town and school buildings) will be closed all day Friday, Dec. 24.

Town Hall and other town buildings will also be closed for New Year's Eve, all day next Friday, Dec. 31.

Industrial Proposal To Be Heard

The Planning Board will hold a public hearing at 8:45 p.m. next Tuesday, Dec. 28, at the Essex Street Theatre Building on the Tambone Corporation's proposed office and research park industrial development, to be located off River Road.

The developer would like to build a three-lot industrial subdivision on the 7.5-acre site, with access from Old River Road.

Aspects of the plan drawing the most concern from town officials are Tambone's plans for major wetlands dredging and filling, and potential traffic problems in the growing industrial area.

Plans for the site have been drawn by Dana F. Perkins Associates of Reading.

Utility Permits Approved

The Board of Selectmen approved permits for the electric company, the telephone company and the gas company during a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night.

With the selectmen's permission, Mass. Electric and New England Telephone will add one pole, with wires and fixtures, along and across Brundrett Avenue. An electric company spokesman explained that the pole is needed for additional support.

The electric company also received permission to construct a line of underground electric conduits, including sustaining fixtures, under and across the sidewalk near Old Andover Village on Main Street, to serve the new addition at the village complex.

Bay State Gas was granted permission to excavate for emergency gas repairs at 16 Riverina Road, 30 Riverina Road, 43 Farrwood Drive, Railroad Street, 259 Chandler Road, and 17 and 19 Burnham Road. Those repairs were made during November.

And while the Mass. Electric representative was on hand, Selectman Gerald Silverman asked him to see that an Elm Square streetlight is repaired. Silverman said the light is located near the corner of High Street, where construction of a new, wider sidewalk was recently completed, because confused motorists might need the light to avoid colliding with the sidewalk.

Directory Of Groups Available At Library

The popular "Clubs and Organizations" directory for Greater Lawrence has been updated and is available for patrons in the main reading room at Memorial Hall Library.

Compiled by Owen Smith of the ANSWERS program, with the aid of volunteer Sudrey Price, this publication lists most area groups, their local contact person, address, phone and statement of purpose. Included, among others, are organizations for people interested in the arts, business, religious, service, recreational or strictly social activities.

While every effort has been made to have the most up-to-date information, we live in a changing community. The ANSWERS line (470-1184) at Memorial Hall Library should be notified of any errors or changes.

Single copies of the revised directory are free and available in the main reading room. To partially cover printing costs, the library will charge 50 cents per copy for organizations or businesses

Stowe Court Complex Dedicated

Atty. Richard Savrann

Nancy A. Pentland

Communities and Development Secretary Byron J. Matthews participated in dedication ceremonies for Stowe Court, the new 40-unit elderly complex off Morton Street, Friday morning.

Nancy A. Pentland, Andover Housing Authority executive director, welcomed the guests and introduced the speakers.

The hall was dedicated to the late Thomas P. Walsh, former AHA executive director, whose wife, son and daughter were in attendance.

Several tenants of other Andover elderly complexes were on hand for the ceremonies.

One of the Stowe tenants opened her apartment for viewing.

Rev. Richard O'Leary, OSA, pastor of St. Augustine's Church gave the invocation and Rev. Westy Egmont, pastor of South Church gave the benediction.

Atty. Richard Savrann, a member of the Andover Housing Authority, addressed the gathering bringing the greetings of the board.

Matthews told the gathering, "Stowe Court is continued evidence of Gov. King's commitment to provide decent and affordable housing for the elderly citizens of the Commonwealth, and the Andover Housing Authority is to be commended for its cooperation in helping alleviate the current housing shortage by expediting the development of these 40 modern apartments."

Stowe Court consists of a three-story apartment building and a separate community building which will also provide office space for the Andover Housing Authority. The development was designed by Michael O'Shea Associates of Boston and built by P.J. Stella Construction Corporation of Wakefield. Financing for the development was provided by the state's Executive Office of Communities & Development under the Chapter 667 housing program.

Secretary Matthews expressed his appreciation to Senators Robert Buell and Patricia McGovern and Representative Gerald Cohen for their continued support of Gov. King's accelerated housing program. "The active support of the State Legislature is vital because the money to build new housing comes from Massachusetts taxpayers, not the federal government," the Secretary added.

"Under Gov. King, the production of elderly housing has totaled more than $163 million, a 70 percent increase over state-aided construction during the previous four years," Secretary Matthews continued. "In 1982 alone, construction starts for new elderly housing across the state will be 150 percent higher than before 1979."

Stowe Court is the fourth state-funded elderly housing development in Andover, bringing the total number of apartments to 236. The Andover Housing Authority also manages 56 units of conventional family housing.

Be sure your hands are dry when installing Christmas tree lights and other electrical decorations. Don't overload circuits.

During the holidays our thoughts turn gratefully to those who have made our progress possible.

And in this spirit we say,
simply but sincerely,
Thank you and best wishes for a

The Christmas
Rose

There were shepherds watching over their flocks that night, who heard the glad tidings from angels. They set out, legend adds to the Gospel story, bearing gifts to the Christ child in the manger at Bethlehem.

A young shepherd girl among them followed hesitantly, because she had no gift to lay before the infant. Suddenly, the legend continues, an angel appeared scattering beautiful roses in her path. The shepherdess gathered them in her arms and ran with this gift to the child.

The flowers, never before seen, have bloomed ever since at this season. They are now called the Christmas Rose.

From the Officers and Staff of Andover Bank, wishes to you and yours for a joyful Christmas.

College Offering Intersession Courses

Merrimack College's Division of Continuing Education is offering six winter intersession courses ranging from criminology to marine navigation during Dec. 27-Jan. 13.

Courses still open for registration are:

Political Parties & Public Opinion, taught by Prof. Eugene Declercq of the political science department, will focus on the history of American political parties and their role and influence in the democratic system.

Federal Problems class will be led in an examination of three current issues of national concern, energy policy, national economy and national defense, by Prof. James Benze of the political science department.

Criminology and Penology, taught by Prof. Frederick Pelerson of the sociology department, will explore the development of criminal theory, the role of the police and the court system, and crime prevention.

Marine Navigation students will become versed in the techniques of celestial and coastal navigation through a combination of lectures and laboratory practice involving charts, sextants and other navigational devices. Prof. Benjamin Cogen of the physics department will teach this course.

All winter intersession courses, except for Marine Navigation, will meet Monday through Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Marine Navigation is scheduled Monday through Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Registration is being held at the Division of Continuing Education, Room 209, O'Reilly Hall.

Healthy Back Offered Y

The Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. will offer the "Y's Way to a Healthy Back" program, designed primarily to relieve back pain, increase flexibility and ease tension. The program was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, world-famous back specialist, and approved by the Medical Advisory Committee of the Y.M.C.A. of Greater New York.

The special exercise program utilizes the Kraus-Weber test to determine minimal muscular strength and flexibility and is composed of a series of movements that begins with relaxation, then flexibility, mild muscular strengthening and returning to muscle relaxation techniques.

"More than 80 percent of the participants previously enrolled in our program found relief or complete elimination of back pain," according to Heidi Wolfman, certified instructor of the program.

"If you are among the many who complain of back pain and your condition is not caused by organic disease, but by muscles that are weak or tense or both, then the Y.M.C.A. program may be of significant help to you," stated Wolfman.

The six-week program will be offered Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., starting Jan. 10. Registrations are being accepted at the Y.M.C.A. Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

When shopping for toys, look for safety features. Avoid toys with small removable parts, sharp point, non-fast colors.

Appointed Directors At Hospital

Peter Cole of North Andover has been named director of communications and security and David Hollins, also of North Andover, has been named assistant director of security at Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence.

Cole, who was director of communications, assumed his expanded role following the retirement of George Wall of Lawrence from the position of director of security. Wall had been a security employee for 11 years.

Cole joined the staff in 1969 as a critical care respiratory therapist. He is a graduate of Essex Agricultural and Technical School, Danvers.

Hollins started in October 1973 as a security guard. He was promoted to security supervisor in November 1980. He had previously operated a garage in North Andover.

The move to join the two departments under one head was made to facilitate better coordination of the activities of the two departments whose employees are often the first to deal with people making inquiries at the hospital, explained Cole.

Count Radetzky de Radetz is on record as the oldest old soldier. He served in the Austrian army for 72 years.

Fine Arts, Music Programs Need Personnel, Rooms, Funds

By John P. Sawyer

The arts program needs an additional classroom at the high school, as well as funds for the repair of kilns and purchase of clay, while the music program needs a full-time theatre person and a resolution of scheduling problems, according to the Andover School Department Fine Arts Program Review.

Program Advisor Diana W. Kolben told the school committee last week there are 100 more instrumental students this year than last. She said there is inconsistency in the art program on the junior high level because there aren't enough staff to go around.

ART:

The art program, according to the program review, "continues to provide an important vehicle for alternative experiences that are a relief for students from the basic skills orientation of the schools. Art in Andover assists students in learning how to see their environment, create mental imagery, make visual choices, and therefore develop confidence and appreciation for their own individuality as well as others."

"The high level of student performance and interest in art is the best endorsement a program can offer from an evaluative sense, and although the art staff feels that it is time to develop consistent, concrete, grading criteria, they also want to maintain a relaxed classroom atmosphere."

The program review lists the following problems and needs:

FUNDS are needed for the purchase of clay and more three dimensional activity;

STUDENTS who need extra help to be successful "are not receiving as much help this year as last due to staff cuts;

SERVICE "to special needs classes are limited to mainstreaming or time that can be scheduled by the building art specialist. Servicing is not consistent, therefore not all students who are not mainstreamed receive servicing;"

SANBORN SCHOOL has no art classroom, which "limits the use of media and severely hampers flexibility in scheduling;"

HIGH SCHOOL art facility "...is now incredibly cramped trying to house two additional teachers and several hundred more students." Art teachers share woodworking rooms with industrial arts. Another art classroom is needed;

KILNS at South and West Elementary Schools need repair and connection; kiln at West Junior High needs repair and proper ventilation.

SILKSCREEN press is needed at the Doherty Junior High.

Assessment of the music program is as follows.

MUSIC:

"The unification of the staff is complete and has developed by way of frequent fine arts staff meetings, system goals which incorporate music and art, workshops and in-service programs which interest both disciplines, curricula which are both spiral in concept, and elements of art and music in the curricula written to coincide," according to the program review. "The fine arts festival, the fine arts hall of fame and other programs, such as the Renaissance performance and American Studies culminating program, are specially designed to bring the art teams in the schools together."

Problems and needs listed include:

JUNIOR HIGH programs are inconsistent;

SCHEDULING problems have led to some students who need extra help not being able to receive it;

CHORAL CONTINUUM "cannot be developed until consistency in scheduling occurs between the Jr. Highs;"

A FULL-TIME theatre person is needed. "Unless the staff is available, no consistency can really occur systemwide."

Commissioned Lieutenant

Paul E. Drury, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Drury of Lawrenceburg, Ky., was commissioned an Army second lieutenant upon graduating from the Officer Candidate School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the 14-week course, students were trained in leadership, small unit tactics and infantry weapons. They also received instruction in map and aerial photograph reading and communications.

He is a 1979 graduate of Bridgewater State College, Mass.

His wife, Marie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Compagnone, 12 Mifflin Drive, North Andover.

Visitor Program Active

A group of more than 50 people attended a special "mini-training session" for the Andover Friendly Visitor Program at The Haven last Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 15. Coordinator Gwen Smith, in charge of the Andover Friendly Visitor Program, introduced Tom Ross, GSW, of the Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center, who conducted the training session. These sessions are held every few months to help those who would like to become Friendly Visitors, broadening their awareness of the needs of the house-bound they will be visiting. After the meeting there was a party with refreshments and stimulating conversation, sharing experiences and needs.

Have you thought of a New Year's resolution to help those who need your companionship and love? There are many people "out there" who are alone, unable to get out and yet hungering for just a taste of it. You can provide that taste. The program matches visitors with friends in need of visitors through a program of screening that has proven itself effective. There is always backup in any challenge you might face, always someone to call upon for advice and assistance. But mostly, the program asks you to give of your love and caring. Think about it as we begin the new year and call Gwen Smith at The Haven for more information.

Greek legend tells of mysterious unseen creatures who wander around for 12 days after Christmas creating mischief. In addition to calling for a priest to make the "Karkantzari" disappear, families burn old leather shoes so the odor will chase them away.

Fire Safety Information In Tour Book

The American Automobile Association announced that it has added fire protection information to the listing of hotel and motel accommodations in the 1983 AAA TourBooks. This is the first time such information has been listed in any hotel-motel guide, the motoring federation said.

Properties with smoke detectors and/or automatic sprinkler systems in each guest room are identified. Accommodations designed with a "D" have smoke detectors in all rooms. Those with an "S" have automatic sprinkler systems in all rooms. Both symbols appear in the TourBook listing if each room is equipped with a sprinkler system and a smoke detector device.

AAA said it has inspected a representative sample of guest rooms in all the properties and has obtained written assurance from property managers verifying that fire protection warning devices have been correctly installed and were fully operative at the time of inspection.

AAA TourBooks, containing AAA-recommended accommodations and restaurants, along with information on what to see and do, also include advice on fire safety procedures in the event of fire or smoke emergencies.

Jack Roberts, director of AAA's approved accommodations program, said that the probability of being involved in a hotel or motel fire is remote. He added that taking a few precautions and knowing what to do in an emergency are important to every traveler.

AAA, in an effort to assure safe travel for the motoring public, has urged all hotel and motel operators to equip facilities with smoke and fire warning devices and to comply fully with community fire protection codes.

The American Automobile Association is a federation of 175 affiliated auto clubs serving 23 million members in the United States and Canada.

Alumni Chorale To Make Visits

Merrimack College Alumni Chorale will make its annual holiday rounds of hospitals and nursing homes in the Merrimack Valley this Sunday, Dec. 19.

The chorale, coordinated by the Rev. Thomas Walsh, has been singing holiday favorites for the ill and aged every Christmas since 1968.

The 40 Merrimack graduates will begin caroling at 10 a.m. at Hale Hospital, Haverhill; 11 a.m. at Mary Immaculate Nursing Home, Bennington Street, Lawrence; and 12 noon at Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen.

After a luncheon they will entertain in Lowell at St. John's Hospital at 2 p.m., St. Joseph's Hospital at 3:30 p.m. and Lowell General Hospital at 5 p.m.

The Speare House in Lowell will provide the carolers with a free banquet at the end of the long day.

Andover residents in the Merrimack Alumni Chorale are Lois Peters, 114 Wild Rose; Mary Ellen Evans, 75 Spring Grove Road; Jean Powers, 7 Midland Circle; and Eileen Rogers, 91 Central St.

English Course

Merrimack College announces a pilot English as a Second Language (ESL) course to be offered from Jan. 3-13, Monday through Thursday at 9 a.m. This non-credit course is specifically designed to aid the transition from good English proficiency to more skill in the speaking and writing areas which are critical for the college student. The college is absorbing all costs of instruction. The only expense to the student will be $20 for books. Classroom and language laboratory work for four to five hours each day and additional assignments to be completed at home require that the 15 students accepted into the course be prepared to devote full time to improving their language skills.

Patricia J. Hennessey of the Merrimack College English Department who holds an M.A. in English from the University of Hartford and who has experience in Canada as well as at Merrimack with the teaching of ESL will be joined by Elaine L. Wilson who holds an M. Ed. from Boston University where she specialized in teaching English as a second language. Wilson directed the ESL program at Phillips Academy, Andover, and has taught ESL at Boston College in Chestnut Hill since 1978.

An English proficiency test will be arranged by Kevin Synnott, assistant to the dean of continuing education, to determine a student's ability level.

Najjar At Computer College

Julie Najjar, Regis Road, Andover, is attending Northeastern University's newly formed College of Computer Science as a member of the class of 1987. Najjar is a 1982 graduate of Andover High School.

Paul Kalaghan, former director of academic computer services at Northeastern, was named dean of the college in July. Prior to the college's opening in September, plans for the first year of operation were developed by Kalaghan and a committee of Northeastern faculty.

The new college is an independent academic unit granting undergraduate and, eventually, graduate degrees.

Sleepover

The Lawrence YMCA will hold its annual New Year's Eve Sleepover for youth ages 6-13 years of age. Members as well as non-members are welcome to enjoy this night of swimming, movies, gym activities and games. The highlight will once again be the midnight celebration complete with hats, noise makers and streamers. Children may be dropped at the "Y" at 5 p.m. Friday, Dec. 31, and picked up at 9 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 1. For further information, contact Rob Reeves at the Lawrence YMCA.

Trolley

The running of model trolley cars by a group of professionals on specially built odules will take place in the lobby area of the Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington, Sunday, Dec. 26, through Friday, Dec. 31. Admission is free.

The trolley cars are miniatures of original operating trolley cars from lines in Boston, New England and New York, and run on tracks and trolley wires.

Speakers Address Students

center that sends traffic through narrow Ballardvale streets.

Mahony called a meeting of the industrial property-owners to examine the problem, and then commissioned a traffic study of the area, "and I'm glad I did."

"This problem is nothing new," the manager said. "Everybody knows about it. But to me it's new. And we have to solve new problems when we see them coming — not wait until they become old problems."

The manager will reveal the results of the study during a public hearing next month, inviting area residents to the hearing. The study shows how the area will be developed in the next five years, how much traffic new industry can be expected to generate — and what changes need to be made.

Unless the roadway is improved, Mahony predicts that industrial traffic will begin using North Street, or taking River Road toward Lowell, "and that just can't be."

Expanding the River Road interchange off Route 93 is crucial to coping with River Road traffic, the manager said. That project has "supposedly" been a high priority with the state for nearly three years, but "nothing's been done," Mahony said.

He said town officials will renew their efforts to obtain funding for that interchange with the incoming governor.

clude the students in a subject-related film to be aired on educational television stations in the spring, according to Daniel LeClerc, social studies program advisor.

Mark Gerzon, author of "A Choice of Heroes" (Houghton Mifflin Company) and other titles, as well as film makers Paul Fitzgerald and Liz Gould participated in a symposium with students from two American Studies classes to discuss the subject of the American hero.

The classes, taught by Hartley Peakes, Chris Kefeler, Sharon Wilson and Bill Becker, have just completed a unit called "American Heroes and Ideals," in which students examine American heroes such as George Washington, Sitting Bull, Martin Luther King and Eleanor Roosevelt.

Film makers Fitzgerald and Gould had visited the classes back in October to film students discussing their ideas of what the American hero is. The film makers were on hand Thursday for the symposium.

Gerzon, a contributing writer to the "New York Times," the "Boston Globe" and other publications, discussed his ideas on manhood and the American hero.

"It resulted in a very rich and fruitful discussion," according to LeClerc.

Gerzon is a 1970 graduate of Harvard University and co-founder and managing editor of the "World Paper" from 1977-80. His other novels include "The Whole World Is Watching (Viking)," "A Childhood For Every Child (Dutton)," and "The Young Internationalists (University of Hawaii Press)."

"A Choice of Heroes" examines the traditional archetypes of the American male and relates political implications of changing images of masculinity.

Hearing Ordered In Fatality

Donald Gammon, 42, 115 Abbot St., Andover, will face a probable cause hearing in Woburn District Court, Feb. 1, on charges stemming from the highway death of Gary J. Boucher of Lawrence.

Judge Francis P. Cullen set the Feb. 1 date following a pre-trial hearing in the Woburn court last Wednesday.

The Andover man is charged with vehicular homicide, driving to endanger and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Gammon pleaded innocent to all charges at a Nov. 9 arraignment.

He is alleged to be the driver of a car proceeding south in the northbound lane of Route 93 which struck a vehicle operated by Victor J. Majkut of Methuen and in which Boucher was a passenger.

Gammon also faces a $1 million civil suit filed by Mrs. Nellie Boucher in the death of her husband.

McGuire-Wright

The marriage of Barbara Chase Wright and Robert Francis McGuire took place at Christ Church, Andover, on Oct. 16. The bride was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wright, 11 Gould Road, Andover. Her attendants were Elizabeth Meier and Ellen Tisbert of Andover and Elizabeth Young of Allentown, Penn.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Robert F. McGuire, 9 Brown Drive, Walpole. Henry McGuire, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Jay Mitchell and Thomas MacDonald of Walpole.

The Rev. James A. Diamond, rector of Christ Church, performed the service, assisted by the Rev. Frederick J. Collins of St. Robert's Church, Andover.

Musical selections from the works of Stanley, Bach, Brahms and Guilmant were presented by organists Carolyn and John Skelton of Andover.

A reception followed at the Andover Country Club. Carol Wright, sister of the bride, was the guest book attendant.

Following a trip to Nantucket, the couple is residing in Braintree.

Seifert

ected by "delayed decisions" of over a decade ago concerning the school building program itself, according to the superintendent. He said thousands of children could have benefited from new facilities much earlier, adding that the cost of the project increased considerably over time.

What Andover can do now, explained Seifert, is either realize resources aren't available and lower educational expectations, or else make a commitment that puts education on a higher level with the kind of attitude that says: if these are our expectations, then these are the resources we need.

But the problem isn't just money.

THE FUTURE:

"I've been here 13 years," he said. "I have some very deep concerns about our youth."

A child who enrolls in school today will live in the world of the 21st century, and therefore education must make certain assumptions about what skills students will need. Seifert lists computer literacy, a higher level of interpersonal relationships and a greater degree of responsibility.

Not only does Seifert get the general feeling older generations no longer want to pay for public education, but he also notes investment in our youth from an educational standpoint must change in significant ways to meet a future world of great change.

For example, establish programs that bring out the special talent in each individual child, and provide time for the students to develop that talent. Also, personal responsibility, community service, computer literacy and decision-making must be taught.

Seifert believes the work ethic and a sense of community are important, explaining the town gives a great deal to its youth, and the youth should be responsible for giving something back to the town. His recent effort to make guidelines on student fundraisers — guidelines that stipulated student work instead of just rattling a tin cup, so to speak, for money — fell short of becoming official policy of the school committee.

So not only is the superintendent unsure Andover is willing to make the financial commitment to the future, but he is also unsure this town is willing to look ahead from an educational point of view. And that's not to say he does not also have his questions about other school systems, as well.

He calls it courage to face the future.

And there's a personal side of all this, as well.

DR. KENNETH SEIFERT:

Seifert is committed to making a contribution to the future of youth and education, whether it be here in Andover or in some other post. He does not want public education to merely survive, adding that he believes students deserve "a far better shake" in preparation for the world they will enter. He thinks it's time for educators to come forward.

"After 13 years, I've said to myself, I would like to look at what the educational environment is like outside (of) Andover," he said. "One does not want to just mark time. You want to be part of something that's moving. There's an enthusiasm when you face the future."

From a personal point of view, Seifert said he wants to know that the work he does day to day makes sense. From that aspect, he said 95 percent of the population are in the same state of mind.

The superintendent stressed he is proud of the people of Andover, adding that he has been fortunate to work with the "finest educators I've known." Indeed, it's not dissatisfaction with Andover that has inspired Seifert as a candidate for the position of commissioner of education in Alaska.

This is the first time during his tenure in Andover that he has considered another job. He was approached for a commissioner's job in 1975, but "I turned it down, because of the things that (needed) to be done in Andover," he said.

So Seifert must now decide where he would like to continue his career and make his future contribution to education. He has not made a decision yet, if he were to be offered the new job.

Seifert has never been to Alaska, but he has been fishing with his son in remote northern Quebec. He said an airplane would fly overhead every three days, and you had to display a white flag if you needed its help.

He calls himself an avid fisherman.

Data Available

The Center for Massachusetts Data at UMass/Amherst is processing income, employment and other sample information from the 1980 Census. The long-awaited data, taken from a 19 percent sample of the population, is crucial for planning in both public and private organizations. The Center for Massachusetts Data receives the information on computer files from the Census Bureau in Washington, then processes it as quickly as possible for public use.

The center charges nominal fees for those who wish to purchase computer reports of the data, though they also make it available for use at each of the 13 regional planning agencies and a number of libraries in the state.

The Center for Massachusetts Data is part of the Census Bureau's State Data Center program.

Christmas Celebrations Scheduled

The Christmas Eve celebrations at St. Augustine's, Andover, will feature a wide variety of musical offerings by the parish choirs. A Family Liturgy will be celebrated at 4 p.m. and will include a dramatization of the birth of Jesus Christ. Christmas carols, accompanied by the organ and guitar, will be sung.

The parish Youth Choir will present Christmas carols and seasonal music by the St. Louis Jesuits at 7 p.m. The 7:30 p.m. mass will begin with a candlelight service and conclude with the traditional favorite, "Joy to the World," arranged for the guitar, organ and handbells.

A Christmas Carol service, sung by the Adult Choir and the Boys Choir, will begin at 9:25 p.m. The Solemn Choral Eucharist, sung by both choirs, is scheduled for 10 p.m. Several Renaissance Christmas pieces will be sung as well as a Gregorian chant embellished with handbells and traditional carols accompanied by a brass choir and the organ. Kathleen Zalla, soprano, will sing "O Holy Night" by Adolph Adam with the choirs participating in the chorus.

Saunders J. Allen, parish music director, will conduct the choirs as well as play organ pieces by Johann Sebastian Bach as preludes and postludes for the evening's services.

In France, a huge wicker figure clothed in outlandish garb and carrying a basket on its back is strapped on a donkey and paraded through the streets. Villagers fill the basket with food and gifts, which are received by the poor at the village church. The figure is named "Melchior" after one of the three Magi.

Seasons Greetings

Here's wishing you and your loved ones a tune-full Christmas holiday... flowing with good cheer, good friends and many good times. Thanks all!

Service Of Carols, Lessons

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist, United Church of Christ) will mark the First Sunday of Christmastide with the traditional service of Lessons and Carols. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor, will preach as his theme "Baby Talk." The choir will sing "There's A Song in the Air" as its offertory anthem. This will be a family service at 10:30 a.m. The church school will offer a class for nursery-aged children and the infant-toddler nursery. A time for fellowship and light refreshments will follow the service.

THE GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING

Christmas is for giving. Gifts are too often broken, forgotten, quickly consumed, outgrown. Only one gift lasts forever.

The greatest gift was a little bundle of love — God's love in the form of a baby. God's gift is free. Its pleasure increases with time and it grows every time it is shared.

Christmas is for giving because God's love in Jesus is forgiving. Celebrate the gift of love. Join us.

Walter C. Wilson

Walter C. Wilson of Ferncroft Towers, Danvers, a former Andover resident of many years who was chairman of the board of the Andrew Wilson Company and active in Greater Lawrence community affairs, died Dec. 21 at Mary Immaculate Nursing Home, Lawrence, after a brief illness. He was 94.

Born in Amesbury, Mr. Wilson was a 1911 graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering. He later joined and then took over management of the family business, which started as a roofing operation and eventually expanded to become New England's largest producer of steel shelving and lockers.

Mr. Wilson and his family lived on Cheever Circle, Andover, for more than 50 years. He was the oldest member of the United Methodist Church of Lawrence, and a incorporator of the Lawrence General Hospital, where he also had served as chairman of the building committee. He was a director of the Lawrence Boys' Club, and formerly belonged to the Lawrence Rotary Club and the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. He was affiliated with Phoenician Lodge AF & AM of Lawrence.

He leaves his wife, Mildred L. (Woodbury) Wilson; one son, Walter C., Jr. of Andover; one daughter, Jean W. (Mrs. Richard D.) Warren of Andover; three granddaughters, one grandson and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at United Methodist Church. Private committal services will be held in West Parish Cemetery. Friends may call from 2:30 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday at Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to Mary Immaculate Nursing Home, Zero Bennington St., Lawrence; or to Lawrence General Hospital, One General St., Lawrence.

Helen Ness

Helen (Corthell) Ness of 41 Elm St., Andover, died Dec. 20 at Whittier Chronic Hospital, Haverhill, following a brief illness. She was 84.

A Weymouth native, Mrs. Ness leaves three daughters, Irene (Mrs. Richard) Merritt of Anaheim, Calif., Marilyn (Mrs. James) Sarcione of Andover, and Eleanor (Mrs. Kenneth) Williams of Orange; five sons, Arthur, a lieutenant in the Andover Fire Department, Robert of Fullerton, Calif., Donald of Lawrence, Harold of Danbury, Conn., and John of Salem, N.H.; and 13 grandchildren.

Private family funeral services were scheduled to be held. Cremation was to take place at Harmony Grove, Salem. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Mary C. McCarthy

Mary C. (Conlin) McCarthy of 19 Stonington St., North Andover, a resident of 12 Wolcott Ave., Andover, for many years, died Dec. 19 at Stevens Hall Convalescent Home, North Andover, after a long illness. She was 85.

A Lawrence native, Mrs. McCarthy had lived in Andover for 40 years, and in North Andover for the past 10 years. She graduated from the Lawrence General Hospital School of Nursing in 1925, and worked as a registered nurse at the hospital until her retirement. She belonged to St. Augustine's parish in Andover for many years, and more recently, to St. Michael's parish in North Andover.

Mrs. McCarthy was the widow of Francis G. McCarthy, Sr., founder of F.G. McCarthy Construction Co. of Andover, and the daughter of the late Michael and Julia (Cummings) Conlin of Lawrence. She leaves two sons, Francis G., Jr. of Sandown, N.H. and John J. of North Hampton; two sisters, Marguerite (Mrs. Oscar) Soucy and Florence (Mrs. John) McGuire, R.N., both of North Andover; four grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Wednesday morning at St. Michael's Church. Burial was in St. Augustine's Cemetery, Andover. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Caron Funeral Home, 30 Main St., North Andover.

Rita Ferris

Rita (George) Ferris of 445 Ocean Blvd., Hampton, N.H., died Dec. 17 at her home after a long illness. She was 60.

A Lawrence native, Mrs. Ferris graduated from Lawrence High School in 1939. She belonged to St. Anthony's parish of Lawrence. Mrs. Ferris was well-known for her support of a variety of religious, community, and philanthropic organizations.

She leaves her husband, Joseph J. Ferris; two sons, Joseph, Jr. of Hampton and James of Andover; her mother, Mrs. Haseeba (Kannan) George of North Andover; four sisters, Theodora George and Eleanor George, both of North Andover, Emily Arragg of Andover and Arlene Cox of South Hamilton; one brother, Theodore C. George of Andover; and a number of nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Monday morning at St. Anthony's Church. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery, Methuen. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Breen Memorial Funeral Home, Inc., 122 Amesbury St., Lawrence.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice.

Theresa Neunzer

Theresa (Gomes) Neunzer of 31 Woburn St., Andover, the co-founder of the Neunzer Youth Award Fund at Essex Agricultural School, died Dec. 18 at Lawrence General Hospital following a brief illness. She was 69.

A native of Madeira, Portugal, Mrs. Neunzer worked as a secretary for the Winthrop Printing and Offset Company of Boston for 36 years, until her retirement in 1974. Together with her husband, she founded the Henry G. and Theresa G. Neunzer Youth Award Fund at the agricultural school, presented to a student under 18 to encourage an interest in agriculture. She belonged to the Essex County Bee Keepers Association, and attended the Andover Baptist Church.

She leaves her husband, Henry G. Neunzer; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Boyle of Medway and Florence (Mrs. Louis) Curdo of Andover; one stepdaughter, June (Mrs. John J.) Blanchard of Lawrence; two stepsons, Eric Neunzer of Andover and Marine Corps Gunnery Sgt. George P. Neunzer, stationed in Iwa Kani, Japan; three sisters, Cecilia Warnock of Clearwater, Fla., Gabriella Fernandes of Lexington and Anna Marchant of Raymond, N.H.; one brother, Louis Gomes of California; eight grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, 11 step-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Neunzer Youth Award Fund, Essex Agricultural Society, P.O. Box 134, Topsfield, 01983; to the Andover Baptist Church, 6 Essex St., Andover, 01810; or the Shriner's Burns Institute, 51 Blossom St., Boston, 02144.

Ellen L. Pitman

Ellen L. (Townsend) Pitman of 18 Morton St., Andover, a resident of the town for many years, died Dec. 17 after a long illness. She was 83.

A Somerville native, Mrs. Pitman was a former board member of the Henry C. Nevins Home in Methuen. She belonged to the Andover Historical Society, the Andover Garden Club, and the November Club of Andover.

The widow of Douglas B. Pitman, she leaves one daughter, Ellen R. Newhouse of Andover; one son, Douglas T. of Sudbury; one brother, Bertus Townsend of Revere; one sister, Zylphia Stewart of California; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was held Tuesday morning at Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Cremation was at Harmony Grove, Salem.

Trees, Greens

Now that December is underway, local nurseries and flower growers are really gearing up for the Christmas rush, according to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

Christmas trees and greens, poinsettias and a variety of colorful Christmas plants are all grown in the Bay State, so if you want a truly fresh product, shop for "Massachusetts-grown."

For a listing of all the tree growers, send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture, 100 Cambridge St., Boston, MA 02202.

For wreaths and greens to decorate your home, look for balsam, boxwood, laurel and balsam roping and holly.

The poinsettia is the most popular Christmas plant, but others to consider for holiday giving are the Christmas cactus, azalea, begonia, calceolaria, cyclamen, kalanchoe and African violets.

The Christmas season is an important part of the yearly sales picture to local growers who must plan ahead to finance the fuel that will be needed to grow Valentine and Easter plants and vegetable and flower seedlings that home gardeners will want by early Spring.

To enjoy poinsettias for as long as possible provide plenty of sunlight, preferably rotating in a sunny window to help maintain the color. Provide drainage in the pot and keep the soil moist, watering twice a week and adding liquid fertilizer every other week. The best temperature is about 65 degrees F., ideally 60 degrees at night and 68 degrees during the day.

Horticulture buffs might be interested to know that the poinsettia takes its name from Joel Poinsett, a political activist who served as the first U.S. Minister to Mexico from 1825-29. Poinsett brought back cuttings of the plant.

Avis Meeting

Winter

Shake Down

Forty girls from Northeastern Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire attended the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council Winter Shake Down at the center in Rowley.

The winter camping event brought together girls ages 12 and up from throughout the 54 community council in an atmosphere of fun and learning. They learned how to build fires, follow a compass, tie knots and lashing, perform first aid and prepare their food under cold weather conditions.

The Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council serves more than 14,000 girls and approximately 2,500 adults in communities ranging from Ft. Devens to Winthrop to South Hampton, N.H., and is a member of the United Funds and Ways.

Cluster Plans Approved

The Planning Board gave their okay to preliminary plans for two proposed cluster developments last Tuesday night, but turned thumbs-down on the proposal for a third cluster.

Developers of the two successful proposals must return with definitive plans, and still need approval of special permits to cluster — while the third developer must return with new preliminary plans.

The planners approved, with some conditions, preliminary plans for Sherborne Park, off Salem Street and Gray Road; and Raven's Bluff, off River Road. They rejected plans for Clearview Acres off Blanchard Street.

Paul Ferrante of the engineering firm Dana F. Perkins drew the plans for each of the three developments.

Sherborne Park will be located on a 25-acre parcel between Gray and Salem streets, with 22 house lots and about seven acres of open space. As a condition of approval, the developer must loop an eight-inch water main from Salem up Gray to serve the new subdivision, and complete a traffic study in time for the public hearing on definitive plans.

Raven's Bluff will include 22 houses on a 20-acre site off River Road, near the Deer Jump Reservation. The developer would like to leave six acres of open space — but part of it would be located across River Road from the houses.

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan

Gilmore told the planners he is still waiting for a formal legal opinion on that idea from special counsel, but believes it will not present a problem.

The board made their approval conditional on special counsel's opinion, and urged the developer to leave additional open space at the back of the house lots as well.

The problem subdivision, Clearview Acres, would be located on a 17-acre site off Blanchard Street, near the Tewksbury line — and across from a working piggery.

Gilmore suggested that to compensate for the inevitable odor problems in the neighborhood, the developer should try to make the development "more attractive visually" by adding more open space among the 21 house lots. The development's five acres of open space will be located across the line in Tewksbury.

Planner Margaret Bradshaw moved to deny the preliminary plan, requesting plans that show "better protection" between the residential lots and the agricultural area.

Paul Curley agreed, saying new plans could "make the neighbors more acceptable to each other. That piggery is probably going to be there for a long time."

The board is also awaiting a formal opinion from special counsel on the legality of locating open space across the town line.

School Budget Process Beginning

The school committee will take up next year's budgetary process, hear reports on the current school year to date and a three-year financial projection when the committee meets on Jan. 4, according to Schools Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert.

Seifert said next year the school system won't be the same as this year, due to budget cutbacks. He said "serious financial problems" await over the next three years, adding that the next three to four months will be the most "significant" in his 13 years as superintendent here.

At the school committee's first meeting of the new year,

Finance Committee Chairman Rusty Dunbar will deliver a presentation on the town's financial model, according to Seifert. The superintendent and Business Manager Frank Paul will explain the three-year financial projection and advise the school committee on what those figures mean.

The committee will begin discussion of less flexible parts of the school budget, such as Blue Cross/Blue Shield. The committee will hear a status report on the current school year to date, including, for example, academic programs and energy conservation.

The Center for Massachusetts Data published "Massachusetts Population and Housing Characteristics: 1980 Complete Count Data," a comprehensive volume of data based on the first computer file of 1980 Census data released for Massachusetts. The book contains 59 tables of information on age, race, sex, rent, tenure, etc., for all cities and towns in Massachusetts. This data was derived from the short questionnaire sent to all households in the U.S. for the 1980 Census, which is why it is referred to as "complete count" or 100 percent data. (Note that income and employment information is not included; the center will publish a companion volume of this sample data in the future.) The whole volume is 765 pages.

In addition, "Massachusetts Population and Housing Characteristics" contains a section of handy reference materials, including a glossary of terms, universe finder, list of other state data centers, and town, county and Regional Planning District maps. Prior to publication the

Park Street Store Will Close Friday Night

The Heartland Jr. store on Park Street will close its doors at 6 p.m. Friday evening, Christmas Eve, after nearly 20 years in Andover.

Frank Giacomuzzi, senior vice president of the food division for Purity Supreme, owners of Heartland, said the store employs about 40 to 50 employees, and "all who want jobs will have jobs" in Purity's other stores.

The vice president explained that at 16,000 square feet, the Andover store is "one of our smallest stores. It doesn't figure into the store of the future. It's very difficult to compete with other stores in the area with that size store."

The company opened the store as a Purity Supreme in 1965, Giacomuzzi said, converting it into a Heartland Jr. warehouse-style operation about two years ago.

"As a Heartland it did fairly well — it was profitable," he said. "However, it's just too small for Purity Supreme's future plans."

Purity owns the building, but the vice president indicated that he did not know what the company's plans for the building are at this point.

Giacomuzzi added that Purity will open a new, 60,000-square foot Heartland store in Tewksbury next month. The full-scale store, unlike the Andover Heartland Jr., will include a bakery and a full line of seafoods, produce, groceries and meat, he indicated.

The only other Purity Supreme in this area is located in Salem, N.H.

Impounded Dogs Now Appear To Be Missing

Two Lovejoy Road dogs that the selectmen ordered impounded two weeks ago — one to be destroyed — have still not been picked up, the town manager said this week.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said Monday that a Doberman and German Shepard belonging to Richard O'Connell of Lovejoy Road have not been impounded because town officials have been unable to locate the dogs.

The town has obtained a court order to back up the selectmen's decision, Mahony said.

Officials believe the dogs have been taken out of town, and tried to pick them up outside town last weekend, the manager said. But the dogs could not be found, he explained.

Andover officials will continue their efforts to impound the dogs, Mahony said.

The selectmen ordered the Doberman destroyed last week, after finding that it is a vicious dog. Charles Poor of Landau Lane charged the dog with attacking and killing his miniature beagle last month.

The board also ordered the Shepard impounded, until O'Connell proves the dog has been vaccinated for rabies and pays $290 in back fines for registration and leash law violations.

The selectmen originally ordered both dogs impounded two weeks ago, before making their final decision at last week's public hearing.

Forest Trails Appear Out For This Year

By Sue Ancella Deacon

Whatever the state's decision on allowing privately-operated cross-country ski trails in Harold Parker State Forest will be, it's probably too late to get those trails in operation this winter, the director of forests and parks said last week.

Gilbert Bliss, director of forest and parks for the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management, said the proposal has "gone by the boards" for the coming ski season.

Instead, the state will try out the experimental plan at Great Brook Farm State Forest in Carlisle, Bliss said.

A suit brought by ten area residents has held up the state's decision on the plan proposed by Duane Johnstone of Carlisle. He would like to create six miles of groomed trails in the Salem Pond area of Harold Parker, located mostly in North Andover. Night skiing would be offered three nights each week, and ski lessons would be available as well.

State officials have estimated that some 10,000 skiers would use the trails each week.

The DEM has considered granting Johnstone a two-year permit on a trial

Fred Cummings with the 32-foot spruce he decorates annually.

The Tree Is A Sharing Of Christmas Joys

By John P. Sawyer

One night, a young girl, maybe 20 years-old, knocked on the door of the 47 High Plain Road home of Fred and Mary Cummings.

The Cummings didn't know the girl, but she had been by before. In fact, each year at Christmas time, she would drive past the Cummings' house, peering through a car window at something very beautiful.

She had a simple request for which the Cummings were happy to oblige.

And with the flick of a switch, the lights shone brightly on the 32-foot tall spruce on the front lawn.

Fred Cummings decorates the tree with lights each year, because "a lot of other people share it" and "enjoy it."

The family receives letters from people who simply want to say how much they like the tree.

The Cummings started the tradition when they moved to their Andover home in 1965. Each December, Fred Cummings gets out the ladder and strings the colorful Christmas lights around the tree. He keeps the tree fit and trim, shearing it into its beautiful shape, although he still finds he must buy a few more lights every year.

"We're a Christmas-oriented family," he said.

The Cummings' two-story home is picturesque, with the tall spruce standing next to it and candle-lights in each window. Inside the house, a wood stove keeps the Siamese cats warm and content. Decorations abound. A toy soldier nutcracker stands on a table next to a ceramic Christmas cookie jar that Mrs. Cummings made. She also embroidered an entire miniature Christmas village, including a church with a tall, white steeple.

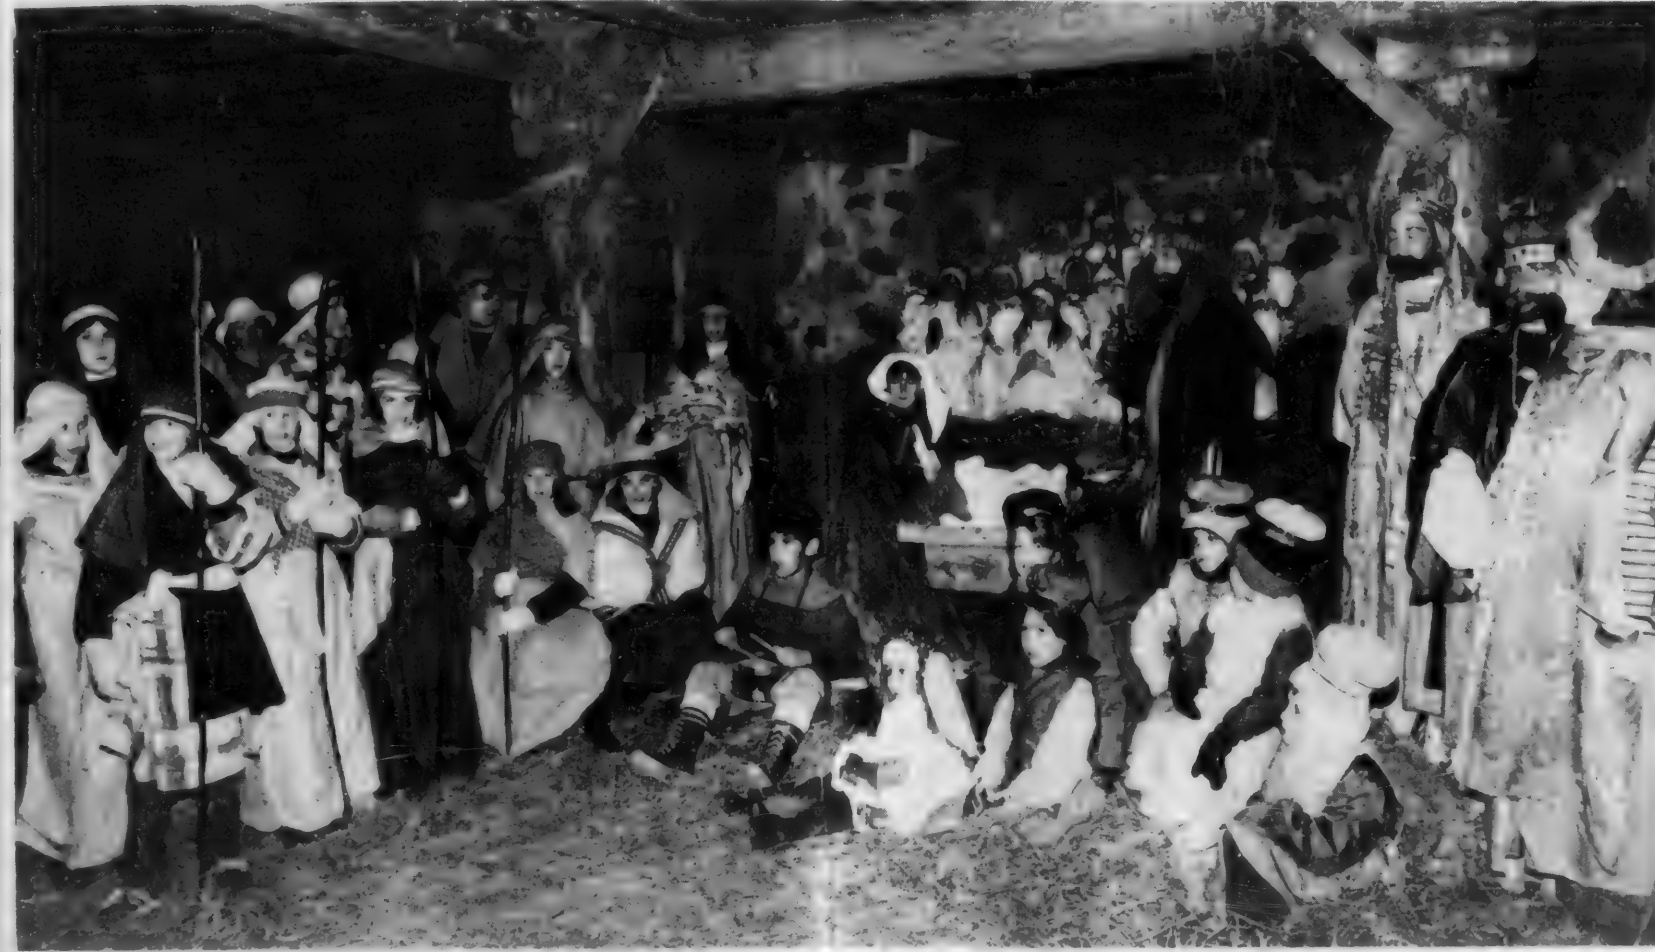

Fred Cummings, a native of Colebrook, N.H., in the Connecticut lakes region of the Granite state, knows his Christmas tree varieties. For the living room, he has chosen a Douglas fir, with rounded needles and a sweeter smell than the spruce.

The spruce outside could be easily mistaken for the familiar balsam fir, a traditional Christmas tree for many people. The needles are quite similar, but more round-

The True Story Of Christmas

Between all the tinsel, ribbons, wrapping paper and Santas, the simple story of the birth of a child in Bethlehem is told each year by the members of the West Parish Church in Andover. Complete with shepherds, animals, and angels the story unfolds outside a stable on Reservation Road. When it is finished friends gather to view the live nativity scene and sing carols celebrating the true story of Christmas. Photos clockwise from upper left: Christine Deranian, 1 Dean Circle, is a patient angel watching over the babe; The live nativity scene; Pat Greer, 157 Osgood St., portrays Mary as she adjusts her daughter, Rachel, in the manger; The Wisemen were portrayed by Amy Marquis, 143 Lovejoy Road, Heck Batrakis, 35 Chandler Road, Carol Campbell, 79 School St., and Dona Leith, 18 Lockway Road; Patiently waiting in the stable are two goats; Lisa Gabriel, Lovejoy Road, was the Littlest Angel who brought the baby all of her worldly possessions in a wooden box; Craig Deranian, 1 Dean Circle, portrayed the Little Drummer Boy.

Christmas

As the sounds of "Joy To The World," and other Christmas music echoes throughout the land, we greet the most joyous season of the year.

Christmas, a time when the cares of the world are diminished by reflection on the Nativity Scene.

For there, in the stable, is the picture of peace represented in the tenderness of a mother, strength of her husband and holy innocence of the Christ child, surrounded by the simplicity shepherds looking in wonder.

And, through that scene is transcended the inspiration for us to be joyous and thoughtful, as we extend the greetings of the season.

At this time of year, the greatest gift of all, charity, becomes a part of our lives, as we extend ourselves to assist others less fortunate.

The love for one another is shown in the exchange of gifts and holiday greetings.

In the efforts of families to gather together, often spanning miles, just to be home or with relatives for the holiday season.

In the gathering of families in churches to celebrate the Holy Birth intended to provide a peaceful world and induce the spirit of brotherhood and good will among all.

Christmas carols and holiday songs fill the air, providing a festive accompaniment to the holiday.

It is a day when, at least for a brief time, we can cast aside the worldly, even personal, troubles to celebrate the true meaning of Christmas as represented in the peacefulness of the Holy Family.

It is a joyous occasion.

The worlds' ills do not disappear, but, for at least a time they are of lesser import as we enjoy the opportunities provided by the seasonal remembrances.

Through this holiday spirit we can be inspired in thought and deed to work more diligently toward the better world His birth was intended to create.

As we celebrate and think of the true meaning of Christmas, it is our prayerful wish that the thoughts of the significance of the birth of the Prince of Peace will provide for us all, the inspiration to soon produce a world filled with peace and love, and a Christmas spirit which extends beyond a single day or season.

A Merry Christmas to all!

The Public Forum

Proper Perspective

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Through a recent series of articles in the area press, the essential facts regarding the proposed cross country ski concession at Harold Parker State Forest have been brought to the public. However, I am deeply concerned at the apparent loss of perspective on the part of everyone involved. As one of the 10 plaintiffs in the suit brought against the Department of Environmental Management (DEM) to block the concession, I feel it is important we all carefully review the situation and form our conclusions only on the basis of available facts.

Finger pointing from both sides of the debate has turned this whole affair into an unfortunate clash of obstinate wills rather than an open dialogue. Some are making comments suggesting collusion between Mr. Duane Johnstone and various state officials. In turn state officials have begun to suggest that some individuals are protecting their own interests under the guise of concern for public rights. Both are silly at best. Mr. Johnstone has developed what appears to be a concept unique in our area. It is a plan that must be very exciting to an entrepreneur of his talents, but it holds little promise of enormous wealth. Even by Mr. Johnstone's own best estimates, he could achieve a break even point within two seasons. The risk is too great and the dollar amounts are too small to lend any credibility to rumors of collusion. Vague innuendo casting doubt on the motives of people in opposition to this plan is counter productive and dangerous. It serves to further polarize and embitter everyone. Certainly, there are some who perceive a danger, however significant, to their personal welfare. This is hardly more sinister than the hopes of the DEM officials or Mr. Johnstone should this plan be implemented.

All discussion on this issue should be limited to the propriety, indeed the legality of the proposal. Ten of us have asked the courts to decide these and other questions. Does the DEM have the legal authority to convey exclusive use of public property to anyone without approval of the legislature? Does the concessionaire have the right to expect the state to make capital expenditures on his behalf? These will be up to lawyers and judges to discuss. Thankfully,

WEEKLY SPECIAL

while politicians squabbleBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Politics is prevailing over the public good in the effort to overhaul the tottering Social Security system that millions of Americans rely on for their retirement. Unless solutions are found soon, the system could go broke.

A special bipartisan commission, which was supposed to recommend ways of making the system solvent, wound up squabbling behind closed doors. Republican members generally want to raise much of the $200 billion needed by 1990 by reducing future benefits. The Democrats have argued in favor of raising payroll taxes.

The commission's staff members and its executive director, Robert J. Meyers, were disgusted by the backstage bickering that produced a mishmash of "options" instead of acceptable solutions. One commissioner privately confided that the result of the panel's work would be "a big, fat zero."

The blame can't be laid totally at the commission's doorstep. Private and public appeals were made to President Reagan and Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., to put aside their political feuding and provide some guidance.

Neither Reagan, who was burned on Social Security when he tentatively considered cutting benefits, nor O'Neill, who saw his Democratic colleagues make political hay on the issue in the November elections, complied with the request.

Left in the lurch are America's elderly and handicapped who are worried about their present benefits, and the nation's workers who are fearful the system may collapse by the time they retire. The monumental issue will be debated in the new session of Congress next year.

There is a danger that the legislation will bog down in confrontation instead of compromise. The losers would be the aged and poor who need security, not political oratory.

PRESIDENTIAL STRAWS: Political insiders anticipate that President Reagan may encounter more and more outright opposition from Sen. Bob Dole, the influential Kansas Republican, who in the past has publicly sided with the president's conservative positions.

This is because Dole, the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, has presidential ambitions of his own, if Reagan decides against a second term. The senator will be in a position to make his mark on Social Security legislation, tax matters and foreign-trade bills.

Dole has read last November's election results and the mail from his Midwestern constituents who are disillusioned with Reaganomics. He has thus been emboldened to criticize the president, most recently for failing to consult with Republican members of the special Social Security commission or with GOP members of Congress. He is expected to defy the White House on a number of other key measures in the coming session.

On the other side of the aisle, Sen. John Glenn, a Democratic presidential aspirant from Ohio, pulled out a plum by becoming the top minority member of the Senate Special Committee on Aging. This choice assignment will bring him to the attention of older voters, who are becoming increasingly active on the national political scene.

It would, not incidentally, give Glenn increasing appeal in key primary states such as New Hampshire, Iowa, Florida and California, where senior citizens comprise an important voting bloc.

MX-MANSHIP: Capitol Hill sources told us that most Republican senators knew in advance of the public disclosure that three of the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff opposed the administration's dense-pack plan for the MX missile system. They kept the information secret, however, to try to salvage a half-a-loaf compromise for Reagan after the House voted down dense-pack in an unusual rebuff to the president.

Reagan, in turn, agreed to make some concessions in the dispute by freezing further spending on the MX until next April. Now the GOP senators have quietly instructed the Pentagon planners to come up with another basing system for the nuclear weapons by that deadline.

But before accepting defeat on the issue, the White House waged a heavy arm-twisting campaign on the Hill. Republican Congressman Wes Watkins of Oklahoma was heavily targeted for persuasion.

Watkins had voted against the MX earlier in the year, but his vote was essential to get the funding proposal out of the House Appropriations Committee. He received a personal call from Reagan during the president's Latin American trip and Vice President George Bush tracked him down on a racketball court for some additional personal lobbying.

In the committee showdown, Watkins voted with the administration, but denies that a Bush promise to support one of his special projects helped change his mind.

Oil Painting

The Lawrence Jewish Community Center will begin a 10-week series of oil painting classes taught by Kathy Piazza starting Wednesday, Jan. 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The classes are designed to meet the needs of beginners and intermediates. Many artists have painted for a few years on raw talent with little basic knowledge. This course will teach proper color mixing, perspective or composition. For further information and registration, contact the Lawrence Jewish Community Center.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Most people tend to think in terms of wall cabinetry when considering kitchen shelving. If you are proud of your kitchenware, there is another option. Natural-wood shelves can be installed over countertops and islands or tucked between studs. They lend a roomy feeling to kitchens by exposing shelving depth which, ordinarily, would be boxed in by cabinets. The shelving can be deep, shallow or lipped to hold plates, spices or breakables. This style lends itself perfectly to a country look. For a similar look, consider cabinets with glass fronts or try to open shelving to display your favorite kitchen pottery.

If you plan to live indefinitely in your present home, it's worth going all out to create a kitchen that has all the fashion and function that you can afford. WINDSOR KITCHENS has been here at 1181 Boston Rd. in Ward Hill 12 years serving and satisfying customers in the Merrimack Valley and will be glad to show you examples of our workmanship. Call us at 372-3444 or stop in Mon-Thurs 9-5:30; Fri 9-8, Sat 9-5, eves by appt. See us today and let us translate your dreams into reality. Happy New Year. May the new year be a prosperous and happy one for you all.

Warrior Bid Falls Short

Down by 12 points after the third quarter, Andover High battled back against Lexington last Friday night but came up short, 61-56.

Warrior Tom Argirpalous scored 23 points, and teammate E.J. Perry added 22 as Andover dropped its first game of the season to one of the ten best schools in the state.

The Warriors played Lexington about even in the first quarter, falling behind 18-16. Perry had eight points and Argirpalous six.

Andover was down 36-30 at the half.

Lexington shot out in front 50-38 in the third quarter, but the Warriors, led by Perry and Argirpalous, battled back to within three points with just 1:50 left in the game.

But Lexington's Mike Mascoll sunk four free throws to ensure the victory. Mascoll scored 22 on the night. Mark Jacobson had 14, and Dana Middleton added 11.

Andover will play in the Greater Lawrence Christmas Tournament on Dec. 26.

St. Robert's, West Parish Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's B and three-time defending champ West Parish A remained the only undefeated teams in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold division after two weeks of play as they joined Christ Church in picking up victories last week at the West Elementary School gym.

West Parish A trimmed St. Robert's A 36-11, St. Robert's B slipped past St. Augustine's B 22-18 and Christ Church handled St. Augustine's A 21-15.

A third round of games was played earlier this week, and the division now rests over the holidays before action resumes on Monday night, Jan. 3.

West Parish A, 36-11

West A won its 18th straight and 32nd in the last 35 starts, taking a 7-2 first period lead and stretching the advantage to 12-4 by halftime and 19-8 after three quarters.

Chris Lane and Kevin Henderson then combined for 12 fourth period points as West A broke the game open with a 17-3 run. Lane led eight players into the scoring column for the winners, netting nine points including eight in the final stanza.

Matt Gibson and Henderson were close behind with eight points each, Dave Vickers pumped through five, and single baskets were contributed by Pat Kelley and Stefan Kelly.

Craig Costanzo and Keith Abernathy completed the West A assault with free throws, while Dave Carnes and Chris Kew added hustling efforts.

Erik Green tossed in four points to pace St. Robert's A, whose other buckets were delivered by Tracy Danner, Jeff Masse and Billy Martin.

Tom Sheehan notched a fourth period foul shot, and other standouts for St. Robert's were Steve and Greg DeVoir, Amy DiRocco and Matt Jarek.

Christ Church, 21-15

The victors inched ahead 6-5 at halftime, found some extra breathing room in the third quarter behind the sharpshooting of Mark Tucker, and then traded baskets with St. Augustine's A enroute to the 21-15 triumph that squared C-C's record at 1-1.

Steffan Tomlinson actually topped the balanced Christ Church charge with six points while Tucker and John Russell added four points each.

Eric Williams, Bob Ashworth and Mark Angelos chipped in second half fieldgoals, and Dave Lewis swished a fourth quarter free throw.

Robbie Finneran shared game-high honors for St. Augustine's A with 6 points, Brian Davies hooped 4, Pete Caruso 3 and John Davies pocketed a fourth period basket.

Playing well defensively for C-C were Matt Corbett and Tad Lee, while other stalwarts for St. Augustine's A included Pat Finn and Andy Hamel.

St. Robert's B, 22-18

St. Robert's B is already earning a reputation as a clutch come-from-behind team, masters of the close victory.

The B-crew rallied in the final minute to dge St. Robert's A 22-20 in its opener, and this time around St. Augustine's B led 17-13 midway through the fourth perod before Josh Malitsky and Paul DeMarco sparked the winning St. Robert's B surge.

Malitsky led six players into the scoring column with seven points, five of them in the fourth quarter, while Joe Massaro fired through six points and Mike Smith had three.

Mike Faraci tossed through a first-quarter fieldgoal, while Jim Spinelli and DeMarco contributed second-half buckets.

Adding solid floor games for the victors were Jim Murphy, Brad Reghitto and Jerome Guerard.

Mark Russell paced all marksmen with 11 points for St. Augustine's B.

Matt Dufresne popped in four and Mike Lebreck three while other strong performances were turned in by Craig Knight and Jose Guerra.

Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division

The second week of the season found Holy Cross besting Boston College 25-19 as both teams evened their records at 1-1. Holy Cross used a tight defense in the first period to take an 8-0 lead.

In the second period Matt Gibson and Bill Lambers helped Boston College and at the half the score was 10-7. Holy Cross outscored BC in the second half by 15-12 as both teams showed spirited defensive play. Chad Gomes and Chris Hekiman were standouts on defense for Holy Cross with Jeff Hurley and Jay Flannely displaying a fine passing game. John Russell, with 16 points, Aleke Msumba, 5 points, Derek Brucato and Mike Gumas each with 2 points, led the offensive effort. Strong rebounding of David Manning and sharp passing by Eric Guzowski and Paul Mondello kept Boston College close for the entire game. High scorer for BC was Matt Gibson with 12 points followed by Neil Fater with 3, Peter K annum and Bill Lambers each with 2.

Dartmouth ran their record to 2-0 with a strong 41-28 victory over a speedy Harvard team. After the first period Harvard was on top 10-9, thanks to 6 points by Mark Russell and 4 points by Steve Howes. Scoring for Dartmouth was Joey Tavilla with 4, Steve Napolitano with 3 and Jeff Manning with 2.

In the second period Barry Connors got hot for seven points and Steve Mencis bagged two as Dartmouth took an 18-12 lead. Harvard guard Matt Perry hit shots from all over the court as he scored nine points in the third period, but Dartmouth increased its lead to 30-23, thanks to six points from Tavilla and two each from David Schwind, Napolitano and Michael DeMartino. In the fourth period Brendon McCue, with his tough defense, helped hold Harvard to five points as six different players scored for Dartmouth. Barry Finegold and Jonathan Pratt played aggressively for Harvard as they evened their record at 1-1.

In the closest game of the young season, Villanova nipped North Carolina 20-19. The first period found Villanova in front by 8-7 as Bart Kalkstein scored 4 and Eddie Brylcyk and Doug Tyler each scored 2 points. Both teams hammered away with neither team getting further than two points ahead.

With 30 seconds left, Scott Wallace of North Carolina drove down the key for two points and a 19-18 lead. Villanova worked the ball around until the clock showed nine seconds and Josh Yezerski swished a 12-footer from the baseline for the winner. Mark Dodge and Jeff Leonard led Villanova defensively as did Jeff Valcourt, also with four points, and Matt Farty for North Carolina. Villanova is now 1-and-1 and N.C. is winless

Oil Prices

A survey of 110 full service and oil-only dealers statewide indicates the average price of home heating oil is currently $1.24 per gallon.

Conducted by the Executive Office of Energy Resources, the monthly survey shows a range of prices from a high of $1.31 on Cape Cod to a low of $1.20 in Hampshire County.

The average statewide price last month was also $1.24.

The average price last year at this time was $1.27.

Second Lt. Michael B. Angeloro, son of Mary Angeloro, 10 Furber Avenue, North Andover, graduated from the U.S. Air Force medical service officers orientation course at Sheppard Air Force Base, TX.

Graduates of the course are instructed in the professional and administrative procedures of the Air Force.

Angeloro will serve at Westover Air Force Base with the 74th Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron.

He is a 1981 graduate of Salem State College.

Attend "Superfoot" Seminar

Students from the Andover-No. Andover YMCA Korean karate class attended a special clinic at Byrne's Tang Soo Do Studio in Malden conducted by karate legend, Bill "Superfoot" Wallace. Clinic director, Master Richard A. Byrne, 4th Dan, chief instructor for the class and assistant executive director of the American Tang Soo Do Association, is also a world fighting champion and took part in the clinic.

Bill Wallace, who co-starred with Chuck Norris in the movie "Force of One," demonstrated his winning style of fighting and incredible flexibility to the 110 eager students of The American Tang Soo Do Association. Wallace showed that retirement from full contact fighting has not slowed him one bit as he demonstrated sparring techniques with the speed and control that kept him undefeated as PKA's Middleweight Champ from 1974-80. Representing the YMCA karate class was 1st Dan instructor Penny Mitchell, red belt Nick Koufouz, Paul Dearborn and Chris Kareore and green belt Dale Hollingshead. Plans are underway to bring Wallace back in the Spring. Anyone interested in joining the Andover-No. Andover YMCA's Korean karate class is welcome to visit any Tuesday or Thursday between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. or call the "Y" for more information.

earned reputation as one of the finest pure shooters in New England Division III. He has complimented his shooting ability with solid defensive efforts and is an excellent target within the fast-break attack. An administrative science major, Maher made the dean's list last semester with a 3.9 average on a 4.0 scale.

The Colby squad and one from American International College (AIC) of Springfield will be the first U.S. college basketball teams to compete in Ireland, according to Daniel Doyle, executive director of the Irish-American Basketball Foundation, sponsor of the tournament.

The Irish teams will be the Irish National Team and the Division I All-Stars of Ireland, comprised of top college players including several who have played in the United States.

The Colby team will also have ample opportunity to tour the country and visit cultural and historical sites.

Maher, a graduate of Andover High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Maher, 5 Farmland Circle, Andover.

A.Y.B.L. Senior Division

In the third week of action of the Andover Youth Basketball League, the Celtics won their second game by defeating the Lakers 44-29 while the 76ers and Supersonics each won to post 3-0 marks in the senior division.

The Celtics opened a 25-6 halftime lead, but had to hold off the Lakers second-half surge led by Nick Lembo's 18 points. Mike Burke scored 7 and Paul Valcourt 4. They were aided by strong floor play from Dave Noyes, Eric Shannon, Tim Minor and Jon Daly. Doug Rotondi led the Celtic's scoring with 19 followed by Bill Dutton 11, Mark Carroll 8, Jim Tacy 4 and Scott Powers 2. Sean Duffy and Chris Koch did well handling the ball.

The bucks trailed the 76ers 20-15 at halftime but could not keep up the pace, losing by 65-30. John Perry and Tim Perry led the winners with 27 and 23, respectively, followed by Joe Hurley 5, John Twomey 4, and Jay Lyons, Rajiv Sheel and Damon Dyer all with one bucket. Scott Wilkins and Darrin Currier led the Bucks with 10 and 8 points, respectively, while Jamey Clarke scored 5, Brian Gibson 4, Tim Higgins 2 and Pat Burns 1. Rob Foley led in rebounds.

The Sonics won 58-25 over the Knicks. All seven of their players scored. Jeff Poor led with 24, Rich LaFond had 12, Rich Napolitano 6, Jon Yezerski 4, Chris Poor 4, Jim Pfeiffer 2 and Larry Middleton 8. LaFond and Pfeiffer also played well on defense. For the hustling Knicks Paul Oshan was high scorer with 12, Jim Marocco and Mike Demeo had 4 each, Jim Flowers 3 and Chris Nelson 2. Eric Goodman and Greg Kinsky had good all-around games and Mike O'Connell rebounded well.

ANTON'S CLEANERS OF ANDOVER

Three Senior Teams Unbeaten

By Rick Harrison

West Parish, St. Robert's A and St. Robert's B continued unbeaten in the Andover church Basketball League Senior Division (13-15 years), hiking their early-season records to 2-0 following victories last weekend at the West Junior High gym. In the other Senior contest, Temple Emanuel squared its record at 1-1 with a 34-18 decision over South.

West Parish struggled to a 25-23 triumph over St. Augustine's B. St. Robert's A nudged past Christ Church 24-22 and St. Robert's B rolled to a 38-14 conquest of Ballardvale United.

In other division play, St. Robert's C squared its ledger at 1-1 with a 37-26 decision over St. Augustine's A.

St. Robert's B, 38-14

St. Robert's B spotted Ballardvale United an 8-3 first-quarter lead, but then dominated the final three periods enroute to its lopsided triumph.

Bob Dziadosz and Chris Concemi both hit double figures for St. Robert's B, pouring through 11 and 10 points, respectively. Concemi netted six in the third period and Dziadosz added five in the fourth session.

Kevin Byrne contributed nine points for the victors, and single buckets were delivered by Chris Arserio, Rick Lafond, Jerry Hand and Bruce Taylor.

Russell Lowe and Andy Cornell paced the BU counter-attack with six points apiece, Cornell collected all his in the opening quart.

Jeff Znamierowski chipped in a fourth-period fieldgoal for United, whose other standouts were John Bird and Dave Rehe.

West Parish, 25-23

A key bucket by Rich Dunn, along with clutch free throws from Shane Smith and Steve Gemmell, enabled West Parish to pull out its tough 25-23 decision over a slightly taller and bulkier St. Augustine's B squad.

Hustling defensive play and poor shooting on both sides contributed to the low score, but in the end it was the WP press and the foul line that made the biggest differences.

Both teams missed numerous inside shots, as the score was tied 4-4 after one quarter and was still 4-4 midway through the second period.

St. Augustine's B then reeled off five straight points to take a 9-4 lead, but West Parish scored a bucket and four free throws by Jeff Poor and Scott Kelly to inch ahead 10-9.

A buzzer-beating lay-up by Tom Finneran enabled St. Augustine's B to regain the lead at halftime, but the West Parish press and fieldgoals by Steve Redgate, Kurt Burzlaff, Mike Lane and Poor sparked WP to a 19-16 edge after three periods.

Dave Argiropoulos hot hands brought St. Augustine's B back to within one point in the final minute and a bucket by Rich Burke gave them the lead.

However, Rich Dunn put West Parish back on top with a fieldgoal before the clutch foul shots by Shane Smith and Steve Gemmell iced the victory.

Poor finished the game with 6 points, Dunn contributed 5 before leaving with a badly sprained ankle in the closing second, Redgate netted 4 and single baskets were notched by Burzlaff, Lane and Nick Coon.

Tom Rossbach and Jeff Kennedy pulled down several key rebounds, and solid defensive efforts came from Eric and Kurt Nickerson, Bill O'Brien, Leo Gravell and Chris Abell.

Rich Burke was game-high marksman with 8 points, Argiropoulos added 7, Andy Thompson 3, Finneran 2, Tim Scanlon 2 and Matt Aumais a free throw.

West Parish was slapped with 22 fouls to 15 for St. Augustine's B.

The winners went 9-for-18 at the free throw line to just 5-for-27 for St. Augustine's B.

St. Robert's A, 24-22

St. Robert's A and Christ Church had trouble getting untracked, as a Kevin Bardsley free throw gave C-C a slim 1-0 advantage after one quarter.

John Perry heated up in the second period, pumping through 11 points as St. Robert's A took a 12-4 halftime advantage.

Christ rallied in the third stanza to trim its deficit to 14-12, and then the rivals traded points down the stretch as St. Robert's A hung tough for the victory.

Perry emerged as game-high scorer with 15 points, Gary Marotta added 4 fourth-quarter points, Sean Melia swished a fieldgoal, Gerry Nassif pocketed 2 foul shots and Jim Davis notched a charity toss.

Also playing well for the winners were Steve Veilleux, Charlie Sheehan and Dennis Sampson.

Division scoring leader Glen Livermore hooped 14 points for C-C, Bardsley and Keith Dawber added three each and Alan Gable had a third-period fieldgoal.

Solid defensive efforts were contributed by Bob Beanland, Chris Scanlon, Andy Frost and Brad Wright.

St. Robert's C, 37-26

Greg Kobelski, John Williams and Billy Dutton combined talents for 29 points to pace St. Robert's C, which trailed 17-16 at halftime and led only 24-22 after three periods before breaking it open with a 13-4 fourth-quarter run.

Kobelski led that late surge with eight points, finishing as game-high scorer with 11.

Williams contributed 10 points and Billy Dutton had eight, six of which came in the second half.

Completing the offense for St. Robert's C were Dave Dilling with 3 points, Yvonne Guzley 2, John Slavin 2 and Mike Klinger 1 free throw.

Scott Plamondon and Rajiv Sheel also played well for the winners.

Petr Zompa sparked the St. Augustine's A attack with 8 points, Jeff Leeman and Paul Davie netted 6 apiece, Tom Hollenbeck and Andy Zompa netted baskets and Tom O'Day converted a pair of free throws.

Defensive leaders included Chris Boyle, Dave Cox, Drew Dunn and Shawn Cummins.

Career Workshops

For those who need to know which career opportunities have high potential in the 1980s and how to start or continue in these career opportunities, Cambridge College offers free panels and workshops in career planning, progression and change. Prominent professionals in high technology, manufacturing, sales and individual entrepreneurship will lead discussions around strategies for career advancement during these times of high unemployment. The workshops will be held between 9:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at Longfellow Hall, 13 Appian Way, Harvard Square, Cambridge. Attendees will also be able to explore and investigate the one-year master's degree programs offered by the school to working adults. Temple Emanuel, 34-18

Temple and South were locked in an 11-11 halftime tie, but the winners exploded for a 14-2 third quarter run to blow the game wide open.

Stu Leinson and Eric Shenker led the balanced third quarter attack with four points apiece, and then Temple went on to outscore South 9-5 in the fourth session.

Stu Leinson sparked the Temple offense for the game with 10 points, while Eric Shenker netted 6, Ron Rosenberg 5, Eric Frank 4 and Geoff Bolan 4.

Sam Brooks and Larry Chapper completed the attack with fieldgoals, while defensive standouts included Wayne Altman (one free throw as well), Eric Buchholz and Myles Greenberg.

Rob Hendry netted 8 points for South, six from the free throw line, while Jamey Clark contributed 6 points and Becky Ellis 4.

Also playing well were Mickey Connors and Rob Schmidt.

Glen Livermore is the early-season scoring leader with 37 points, followed by John Perry with 23, John Williams 22 and Chris Concemi 20.

Junior Church League Action

By She Livermore

The highlight of last week's Junior Church League action was the game played between Ballardvale United and South. Ballardvale held a 6-4 lead at the end of the first quarter. In the next three quarters both teams tossed many balls towards the basket but missed every time and Ballardvale won with their first-quarter, two-point edge.

West Parish 12 0

St. Augustine's B 8

West Parish led 7-0 at the end of the half. St. Augustine's narrowed the lead to 8-4 in the third quarter and matched West Parish for points in the final, but West Parish's first half edge won them the victory.

Four players tossed in the victory points. Ty Fortna and David Blank chipped in 4 apiece, Mike D'Angelo added 3 and Craig DerAnanian made a charity shot count.

Jeff Hurley tossed in four for St. Augustine's and John Gabriel and Kevin Murphy each contributed two.

Players turning in fine performances were Marg Puglia and Greg Poor for West Parish, as well as Mike Torrisi, John Bishop and Shad Flagg for St. Augustine's.

St. Robert's A 22

Temple Emanuel 6

St. Robert's exploded with 10 points in the first quarter and added six in the second, to give them a 16-4 lead. Temple Emanuel slowed them down a little in the third and fourth, holding them to only six more, and St. Robert's won 22-6.

Jeremy Gibson and Jeff Foley led the victors with 8 points apiece, Andrew Bedell contributed 5 and Ian Timmons chipped in a single free throw.

Mike Taylor tossed in three points for Temple Emanuel, and Erik Greenstein, Sam Gross and Brent Firestone each chipped in a charity shot.

Players turning in fine performances were Dan Burn and James Dolan for St. Robert's A, as well as Dave Bremberg and Andrew Leinson for Temple Emanuel.

St. Augustine's A 26

St. Robert's B 16

St. Augustine's A team led 4-2 at the end of the first and erupted with 12 points in the second quarter to make it 16-6. St. Robert's outscored them 8-4 in the third, but St. Augustine's came back with six in the final quarter to win a 26-16 victory.

Brian Novelline led the victors with 10 points, Ryan LeGrow was a close second with 8, Garrett Ferris chipped in 4, and James Landry and Jamey Lionette each tossed in single buckets.

Chris Fletcher was high scorer for St. Robert's with 6 points, Greg Masse and Peter VanOlinda each tossed in 4, and Matt Reghitto added a single bucket.

Players turning in fine performances were Anthony Russo and Tobin Gottfried for St. Augustine's A, and Bill Sullivan, Jennifer Merenda and Natalie Dowell for St. Robert's B.

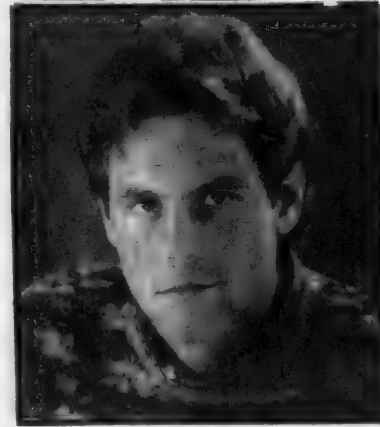

Ballardvale United 6 - South 4

All the scoring took place in the first quarter. Nicole Ricci tossed in 4 points and Matt Brodsky added 2 to give Ballardvale

Intermediate League Results

St. Robert's D slipped past Christ B 14-9, South A overpowered St. Augustine's C 31-6, St. Robert's F toppled St. Augustine's D 24-12, St. Robert's E downed West Parish B 34-12, Ballardvale B edged Ballardvale A 22-18, and Temple Emanuel nipped South B 25-22 in Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Blue" Division games last week at West Jr. High and South School.

St. Robert's D, 14-9

Ahead 3-2 after one period and leading just 5-4 at the half, St. Robert's D broke things open in the third period with a 7-2 run to seal the win against Christ B.

Steve Knight scored all of his game-high 5 points in the pivotal third period. Paul Salafia added 4, George Willard 2, Marc Selvitelli 2 and Eric Hammond swished a free throw.

Matt Jacques, Brett Hammond and Ed Sheehan were other standouts for St. Robert's.

Kaios Ryan led the Christ B attack with 4 points, Steve Mollineaux chipped in 3 and Fred Newcombe netted 2.

Matt Kelly, Ken Gable, Chris McBride, Ian Anderson and Todd Abernathy were defensive stalwarts for Christ.

South A, 31-6

Chris Eggert pumped home 15 points to lead South A over St. Augustine's C.

Jim Hendry and Steve Napolitano scored 6 points apiece, A.J. Boutin 4, while Dana Orlando and Steve Flanders turned in fine floor games for South A.

Dennis Hamel, Eric Horton and John Lewis contributed baskets for St. Augustine's, while Tom DeBenedictis, Jeff D'Urso, Dennis Grogan, Brian Rittershaus and Greg Shepard also played well.

St. Robert's F, 28-12

St. Robert's F bolted to a 16-0 first-half lead over St. Augustine's D and then the rivals played even the rest of the way.

Mark Green powered the St. Robert's assault with 10 points, Kevin Murphy, Mark Shwetz and Billy Tobin popped in 4 points apiece, while Shaleen Cassily, Tim Parker and Jacqueline Kupa delivered single baskets.

Peter Reming and Paul Lembo dunked four points apiece for St. Augustine's, while solo buckets were netted by Chris Allard and Jim LeCreta.

St. Robert's E, 34-12

St. Robert E broke things open in the third quarter, outscoring West Parish B 8-2 to boost its lead to 24-10.

Mike Cincotta, Matt Perry and Jeff Landry combined for all the victor's scoring in that period.

Cincotta and Perry led the St. Robert's attack with 10 points apiece, Landry and Chris Landers contributed six points each, while Martine Kelley hooped a first period basket.

Mike Kelley, Matt Moynihan, Eric Cincotta and Jonathan Merenda also played well for St. Robert's.

Chris Gray paced West Parish B with 6 points, Fred Hohn added 4 and Scott Livermore 2.

John Hess, Adam Guild, Tricia Doyle, Adam Clark and Reed Newton were other West B stalwarts.

Ballardvale B, 22-18

Ballardvale B snapped a 16-16 deadlock in the final quarter, outpointing Ballardvale A 6-2 enroute to its victory.

The B-team led 8-2 after one period, and 12-6 at halftime, but the A-team, behind the hot shooting of Andy Meckel, Henry Prussman and Kim Lowe, tied the score after three quarters.

Bobby Nutter and Steve Hanley then combined for six points in the fourth period to seal the B-team win.

Devon Arsenault, Steve Smith and Steve Landry led the balanced B-team offense with six points apiece, while Nutter added four, all in the pivotal final period.

Jason Blandini, John Pironi and Mike Kalil were other B-team standouts.

Prussman was game-high with 9 points for the A-team, Meckel added 5, Lowe 2 and Mike Mooney 2.

Chris Lowe and Sean Cassidy also turned in fine performances for the A-team.

Temple Emanuel, 25-22

Mike Englehart and Gary Witover paced

Temple Emanuel to a 7-0 first-quarter lead and then withstood a strong counterattack by South B in the final three periods to secure the win.

TE held a 9-4 lead at halftime and 16-14 after three quarters.

Englehart finished the game with 8 points, Stephen Gack popped in 5, Mark Leinson 4, J.k Shapiro 4, Witover 3 and D. Jaye netted a foul shot.

Bryan Boucher popped in 9 points for South B, Billy Batchelder chipped in 7, while A.J. Boucher, Steve Poor and Andy Hager notched solo fieldgoals.

THEY'LL NEVER AGREE ON WHO HAS THE BEST SKIING. JUST WHO HAS THE BEST CAR.

In Aspen and Vail, ski conditions are usually terrific.

Which means driving conditions aren't.

So it's not too surprising that police in both communities drive Saabs. In fact, nothing but.

With its front-wheel drive, 15-inch wheels, Pirelli radials, and even, in some models, a heated seat, Saab gives these Colorado Police a big advantage over winter.

Not to mention other drivers.

Andover 3 - Salem 0

Andover played its best game of the season against a strong skating Salem team. There was no scoring in the first period as both teams skated and passed well. Eric Martin and Keith Cutler put lots of pressure on, but to no avail.

During the second period Andover could not capitalize on two power play opportunities as the action continued at both ends with Ryan Moynihan and Danny Trede playing strong defense in support of goalie Kevin Lane who recorded his first shutout.

Early in the third period Jay Coburn broke down the right wing and was able to slip the puck under the goalie after heavy action in front of the net. Mark Cincotta and John Constantine assisted. Within the next two minutes the line of Stephen Neal, Chris Pothier and Joey Ligouri completed the scoring with two more tallies. The second goal coming from a wrist shot at the face-off circle off the stick of Pothier, followed 29 seconds later on a rebound from the slot by Neal.

Andover 9 Marblehead 0

Andover was victorious over an undermanned Marblehead team with Jay Stella recording his first shoutout of the season. Highlights included two hat tricks, one by Chris Pothier and the other by Keith Cutler. Andover kept the pressure on for most of the game with the line of Mark Cincotta, Joey Ligouri (one goal) and Jay Coburn (two goals) providing the rest of the scoring. Brendan Finneran and Danny Trede were very strong on defense as they kept Marblehead from any serious scoring opportunities.

Engineering Improves

Doctoral engineering programs of New England's state universities have improved dramatically over the past five years, according to a New England Board of Higher Education (NEBHE) analysis of a Washington, D.C., education group report.

For their doctoral programs in chemical engineering, for which an average rating was 50, the University of Connecticut scored 63; the University of Massachusetts 65; and the University of Rhode Island 54.

UMass scored 63 for its civil engineering program. A rating was unavailable for URI because its civil engineering program is less than five years old.

In electrical engineering UConn scored 60 and UMass 58. Mechanical engineering programs at UMass scored 51 and at URI 66.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology consistently led all New England educational institutions with the highest scores in all of three separate rating categories.

"New England depends on state university systems today as it has never had to in the past. As recently as 15 years ago enrollments were heavily concentrated among private colleges. Today they are nearly evenly split between the public and private sectors," said John C. Hoy, NEBHE president.

NEBHE statistics reveal a significant decline in the number of advanced graduate degrees in engineering awarded in the '70s. The situation creates a shortage of faculty to teach new engineers.

Perry Top Warrior Gridder

E.J. Perry was the recipient of the Eugene V. Lovely Memorial Award as the outstanding performer on the 1982 Andover Golden Warrior team at the annual banquet held at the West Junior High School. Perry led the team in pass receiving during the past season and was named as a first-team end on both the All-League and the Eagle-Tribune all star teams.

The Gus Connolly Memorial Award for leadership, sportsmanship and cooperation was presented to Co-Capt. Mike Sanchez. Co-Capt. Greg Sacco was awarded the Edward Collins Memorial Award as the team's outstanding back and John McLellan won the Charles Maurikas Memorial Award as outstanding lineman. McLellan was also named as a first-team defensive guard on the Eagle-Tribune All-Scholastic team, along with Perry and punter Mark Nardone.

Nardone and place kicker Charles Ziegenbien were also honored for being placed on the All-League team. Game footballs were presented to six seniors for their outstanding play during the season: Joe Keefe, Tom Duncan, Keith Dyer, Mike Lucey, Jeff Demers and Co-Capt. Wayne Giles.

Linebacker Bill Donovan and offensive guard Mike Griffin were announced as co-captains for the 1983 season.

In addition, a special award was presented to defensive end Tom LaLiberty of Methuen High School as the team's outstanding opponent for the 1982 season. LaLiberty, senior class president, had five individual quarterback sacks in the annual Andover-Methuen contests.

Recipients of letters were:

Seniors: Gerry Ahern, Tom Arguopoulos, Chris Coots, Jeff Demers, J.J. Downey, Tom Duncan, Keith Dyer, Andrew Emmert, Wayne Giles, Steve Hebeisen, Steve Johnson, Joseph Keefe, Bryan Looney, Michael Lucey, John McLellan, William Noyes, Mark Pelletier, E.J. Perry,

Sophomores: Keith Driscoll, Chris Madden, Tom Rossbach, Mark Sacco, Tim Scanlon, David Shivers.

Managers: Julie Connolly, James Cleary.

Church League

United 6. Scott Eggert and Matt Orlando each chipped in a bucket for South, making the score 6-4. The scoreboard never changed during the rest of the game, and Ballardvale won the narrow victory.

Players turning in fine performances for Ballardvale United were Reggie Hayes, Denny Mooney and Lisa Hayes, and Todd Gray, Geoff Schaake and Steve Neal for South.

St. Robert's C 6 - Christ Church 0

The two baskets tossed in by Mike Petto-ruto in the first quarter together with the two charity shots chipped in by Jeff Morn-eault, proved sufficient to win St. Robert's C the victory over Christ Church.

Turning in fine performances for St. Robert's C were Wayne Mattola and Adam Ruma and for Christ Church were Noah Caruso, Matt Grant and Stephen Braidt.

St. Augustine's C 14

St. Robert's D 7

The score was tied 2-2 at the end of the first, but St. Augustine's came back with six points in the second quarter to make it 8-3. They added another six in the third and were held scoreless in the final, but St. Robert's could only add another four to their total, giving the St. Augustine's C team a 14-7 victory.

Jeff Hamilton led the scoring for the victors with 6 points, Sean Ryan added 4, and Maura Everett and Erin McCloskey each chipped in single buckets.

Paul Filosi was high scorer for St. Robert's with six points and Ryan Beal made a charity shot count.

Players turning in fine performances were Paul Valee and Erin McCloskey for St. Augustine's Cc, as well as Pete Carmanis and Dan Griffin for St. Robert's D.

Tales told by wandering minstrels of the Middle Ages were called "romances" because they were told in one of the romance languages.

Hilda's Hair Stylist—For All Your Styling Needs

Your hair is as important to your total "look" as the type of clothes you wear. That's why you need a style that is for you—one that portrays the look and feel that you want to carry. You can achieve that effect by talking with the professional hair stylists at Hilda's Hair Stylists in Andover's Shawsheen Plaza. They will discuss the various options open to you, whether it be perming or straightening, frizzing or coloring.

Today's popular curly hair is achieved for those not so fortunate to have it naturally, through harmless permanents. When hair is rolled and permed with large curlers, a soft, loose, wavy effect is achieved. Tighter, more bountiful curls occur when the hair is curled around smaller rollers. Both styles are natural looking and easy to care for.

Blow cuts are also popular today. Hilda's professional stylists will create an attractive style that is easy to blow dry and care for yourself. All of the stylists are experienced in the latest hair cutting techniques and work especially well with children. Also, on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, Hilda's offers discounts to senior citizens on shampoos, cuts and permanents.

Owner Hilda Privitera is a specialist in hair coloring, bleaching and frosting. She feels that your color solution should be mixed carefully, like a precious prescription, to create the individualized color desired. Extra care is always taken to give you beautiful color, texture and a natural look using Revlon, L'Oreal and Clairol products.

Open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday and Friday evenings until 9, Hilda welcomes walk-in customers, but urges you to call first, if possible, to assure prompt service. Conveniently located in the Shawsheen Plaza, Andover, where there's always plenty of parking, call Hilda's soon at 475-2531.

TOPS Electronic Service—The Leader In Repair Service

Nowadays it seems as if practically everything you own is electrical. —and the problem with that is that sooner or later that piece of equipment will break down. You have two options. You can either send it back to the manufacturer and wait months before you see it again, or you can bring it to TOPS Electronic Service at 84 Main St., North Reading, next to Zayres. At TOPS you will receive prompt, efficient service on all your home entertainment equipment.

Owner Tony Bonanno started TOPS in 1977 and has since grown to a staff of fifteen and an area leader in the repair business.

TOPS is the only authorized independent service center for Atari home computers and video games. They also do the repair work for Lechmere's Dedham and Framingham stores, one of the top ten retail companies in the United States, and for Ann & Hope in Danvers.

The electronic technicians at TOPS are trained in all phases of home entertainment equipment and are able to repair practically any electrical problems you may encounter. The women pictured above, Tish Pacini, Patty Campilio and Lisa DeConto, put in a long day scheduling all the calls and deliveries for most of eastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire.

TOPS is faster than most of the other service centers in the area and provides warranty service on every major manufacturer. And if you prefer to do the repairs yourself, you will also find the parts for it at TOPS.

Andover Garden Club.

The widow of William H. Jaquith of Scituate, she leaves one sister, Doris Pitman of Bartlett, N.H., and several grandchildren. She was the mother of the late William H. Jaquith, Jr. of Scituate.

Private funeral services were scheduled to be held in Bellevue Cemetery, Lawrence.

Memorial contributions may be made to Etrusco Associates, 1 Common St., Scituate.

Alice M. Fraize

Alice M. (Davis) Fraize of 12 Chestnut Court, Andover, died Dec. 14 at Lawrence General Hospital. She was 92.

An Andover native, Mrs. Fraize lived in the town throughout her life.

The widow of Albert A. Fraize, she leaves one son, Edward A. of Andover; three grandchildren, and seven grandchildren.

Memorial services were held Friday morning at Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St. Cremation took place at Harmony Grove, Salem.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice.

basis, with the state claiming a small percentage of his gross income.

But the local residents are seeking a temporary restraining order that would stop the state from making that decision, Bliss explained. A hearing will be held Dec. 29 in Suffolk Superior Court.

The residents' complaint includes a number of "allegations" against the proposal, the director said, including questions about the commercial aspects of the plan, its legality, and the possibility of "environmental damage" to the forest area.

If the residents are successful, they will probably seek further court action to prevent the plan from being implemented, Bliss indicated. But if they fail, the state is prepared to act on Johnstone's proposal "fairly quickly," he noted.

Even if the court decision is favorable for the state, it will probably not be rendered until mid-January — and the 1983 ski season would be half over, he said. Therefore the Harold Parker plan would not be put into effect until 1984.

Since the proposal was first described to area residents early last month, hundreds of Andover townspeople have objected to the idea of privately-run ski trails in the Salem Pond area of the forest.

Neighbors are concerned about possible noise and traffic problems, and have protested that they will no longer be able to use a favorite part of the forest for horseback riding, hiking, snowmobiling, and free skiing.

Ethel I. Dewhurst

Ethel I. (Taylor) Dewhurst of the Pittsboro Christian Home, Pittsboro, N.C., formerly of Park Street, North Reading, died Dec. 20 at North Carolina Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, N.C., after a brief illness. She was 89.

A native of Auburn, Maine, Mrs. Dewhurst and her husband were active in home missionary work for a number of years.

She leaves her husband, Arthur W. Dewhurst; five sons, Philip of Salem, N.H., Donald of Franklin, N.C., Roland of Andover, Wesley of LaVerne, Calif., and Raymond of Rochester, N.H.; one sister, Olive Taylor of Lynn; 19 grandchildren, and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Brown Wynne Funeral Home, Raleigh, N.C. Burial will be in Chatham Memorial Park, Siler City, N.C.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Pittsboro Christian Home Chapel Fund, P.O. Box 518, Pittsboro, N.C. 27312.

ed, and the bark is rougher than the smooth surface of the balsam.

Fred Cummings, the father of three children, Beth, 27, Jeanie, 25 and Doug, 22, doesn't decorate the big tree just for the enjoyment of his own family.

But except for residents in the surrounding neighborhoods, he said, "very few people know about it."

As long as the tree is there, he'd like to share its Christmas glow with others. The tree will be lit from five to nine o'clock each day until Christmas.

Doctor Faces Charges

Dr. John J. McArdle, Jr., 66, who maintains offices on Central Street, faces charges in Superior Court, of dispensing drugs illegally. He has been charged with six counts of dispensing a Class B substance.

Dr. McArdle was indicted secretly last Thursday.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Ziemian said that Dr. McArdle had prescribed Nembutal, a sleeping pill, for a state police detective on six occasions between October, 1979 and May of this year. The assistant district attorney said the state police officer made no pretense of being ill when he requested the prescriptions from the doctor.

Deloury Promoted

David E. Deloury, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Deloury, 439 South Main St., Andover, was promoted to the rank of sergeant in the Norwich University Corps of cadets for the current academic year.

To receive rank as a commissioned or non-commissioned officer, a cadet must be proficient in academic and military subjects and must have demonstrated exemplary qualities of leadership.

THE MOST ELUSIVE
GIFT OF ALL

If you asked most sane and temperate men and women throughout the world what they wanted most
for the holidays,
their first choice
wouldn't come in a magnificent box with a fancy ribbon.
They couldn't find it on a colorful page
of a fat
Christmas catalog.
They wouldn't see it glistening out at them from a window
of a smart boutique.
Because it's the most precious and elusive
gift of all . . .
peace on earth.

FANNIE MAE

If you've ever listened in on a conversation among Realtors, builders, mortgage brokers, or bankers, you may have heard the name "Fannie Mae" mentioned. No, it's not a pancake mix or a brand of bread. It refers to a government agency subsidized and chartered by the U. S. government. The full name of the agency is Federal National Mortgage Association and it has been in existence for close to forty years.

Fannie Mae functions as a secondary mortgage market, which consists of organizations that buy mortgages from firms that originate them. Fannie Mae offers to buy FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages from lending institutions that are in need of cash. This has the effect of making these types of mortgages negotiable, thus, very desirable. This is, in effect, a type of support program.

Urban renewal, low-cost housing, and other kinds of FHA programs are often supported by Fannie Mae with that organization buying the mortgages at their face value. Some builders, as a matter of fact, "tailor" their building activities so that Fannie Mae will buy the mortgages.
